

Ski School Rows...

After legal wrangles and court summonses the French ski schools have changed their laws so you now have to have a degree to teach skiing in France – or having passed an incredibly tough test. And most tour ops have abandoned ski guides for fear of being arrested by the French Police – another great EU “benefit”.

which will point you to all the good ski places that suit you, and away from the ones that won't. Distribution by a leading tour operator, Neilsons, makes us Europe's biggest-circulation ski magazine. We are however, completely independent, free to say what we like about whatever we like — for the good of skiing and skiers. And we shall

- WE ARE the only ski magazine staffed entirely by Fleet Street journalists and top ski professionals, which means our articles and reports are the best.
- WE ARE the only ski magazine daring to grade resorts. Our centre-spread chart tells at a glance all you need to know about a resort. It may be critical, but we want to raise standards for our ski readers.
- WE AIM to be the best ski magazine, not just the biggest.

Good Ski Guide Adverts...

Good Ski Guide began life with some proud boasts we later strived to live up to. Note amazingly-low ski prices – and Swissair were our first advertiser and have stayed with us, advertising right up to this day.
